Why create a video resume?

It's simple; no one ever gets hired without a personal interview. Most people never get face to face with an employer, and so many qualified candidates miss that golden moment.

And it is a golden moment when you think how often it is that an employer makes up his mind within a minute of meeting someone.

Employers do not hire paper resumes, they hire people!

With stories about how thousand of resumes are being submitted to fill one position, one can only come to the conclusion that candidates need a competitive edge. Video Resumes give you the competitive edge you are looking for!
